

naver®
collection

we take pride in every detail

In the design concept of Naver Collection, each model has its own unique characteristics. Everything right down to the detail is made as a part of a whole, where form and function are combined in an outstanding and consistent design. The wood we use is carefully selected and collected in forests with controlled, sustainable operations. We use the natural resources economically and with great care. Good, well-designed furniture will bring joy for several generations, and thus exploit the natural resources in the best possible way.
